Stephanie Jackson Stephanie Jackson is a Louisiana native that has found her home in Mississippi. Stephanie is a life-long student-athlete, growing up playing football and basketball, the latter of which earned her a full scholarship to Tougaloo College where she studied English with a minor in Spanish. Upon graduating from Tougaloo, Stephanie joined the AmeriCorps National Civilian Community Corps where she served as a team leader in Denver, Colorado. Following her AmeriCorps service, Stephanie went on to serve her community as a law enforcement officer before enrolling into the Louisiana State University (LSU) Ourso School of Business. Stephanie ultimately decided that a career in law was more desirable and left the LSU Ourso School of Business, accepting a scholarship to the Mississippi College School of Law where she earned her Juris Doctor with a certificate in Business Law and graduated cum laude. Stephanie, however, never left sports. She is a former women's professional football player, retiring as a two-time champion, first-team All-American wide receiver, and a member of Team USA. Stephanie is also a former NFL scout and continues to work alongside the NFL as an NFL Flag Ambassador. Stephanie is currently a member of the New York State Bar Association and a sports attorney with a focus on amateur athletes.

William E. (Trey) Manhein, III Trey Manhein currently serves as Chief Financial Officer and General Counsel for LEC, Inc., a company that provides integrated services in automation, interface programming, networking, and fabrication for a wide range of industries, nationally and internationally. Before joining LEC, Inc., he engaged in the private practice of law with extensive experience in business, commercial, bankruptcy, and banking law. He is a graduate of Louisiana State University (2000) and Mississippi College School of Law (2003). He regularly teaches Secured Transactions and Sales and Leasing at MC Law and previously taught Banking Law as an adjunct.

Ben Watson Ben Watson is a partner in the Jackson office of Butler Snow. He is Chair of Butler Snow's e-Discovery Advisors team in the Commercial Litigation Group and focuses his practice on director and officer defense, trade secret litigation, contract litigation, intellectual property litigation, administrative law and aviation law. Ben is recognized for his expertise by a variety of publications, including Best Lawyers in America®, Super Lawyers®, and Martindale-Hubbell® (AV®-Preeminent™ Peer Review Rated), and is active in several Bar associations. He is the co-author of Mississippi Appellate Practice (MLI Press 2021) and also authored an article on the impact of COVID-19 on commercial transactions for the Mississippi Business Journal in 2020. Ben obtained his J.D., magna cum laude, from University of Mississippi and both his B.A., magna cum laude, and B.B.A., magna cum laude, in Accounting from Millsaps College. He is admitted to practice in Mississippi and Tennessee.
