SUMMER 2023 ADJUNCTS

Stephanie Jackson Stephanie Jackson is a Louisiana native that has found her home in Mississippi. Stephanie is a life-long student-athlete, growing up playing football and basketball, the latter of which earned her a full scholarship to Tougaloo College where she studied English with a minor in Spanish. Upon graduating from Tougaloo, Stephanie joined the AmeriCorps National Civilian Community Corps where she served as a team leader in Denver, Colorado. Following her AmeriCorps service, Stephanie went on to serve her community as a law enforcement officer before enrolling into the Louisiana State University (LSU) Ourso School of Business. Stephanie ultimately decided that a career in law was more desirable and left the LSU Ourso School of Business, accepting a scholarship to the Mississippi College School of Law where she earned her Juris Doctor with a certificate in Business Law and graduated cum laude. Stephanie, however, never left sports. She is a former women's professional football player, retiring as a two-time champion, first-team All-American wide receiver, and a member of Team USA. Stephanie is also a former NFL scout and continues to work alongside the NFL as an NFL Flag Ambassador. Stephanie is currently a member of the New York State Bar Association and a sports attorney with a focus on amateur athletes.

Joel R. Jones is the Supervising Attorney for the Veterans Legal Clinic at Mississippi College School of Law. The Clinic offers a wide range of legal support to Mississippi Veterans and eligible dependents. Prior to coming to the Clinic, Mr. Jones had a career as a Special Assistant Attorney General at the Mississippi Attorney General's Office. He also served in the United States Marine Corps and the Mississippi Army National Guard, retiring from the latter as a Lieutenant Colonel in the Judge Advocate General's Corps. During his time in the service, Mr. Jones went overseas six (6) times, including two (2) deployments to Iraq. He is a frequent lecturer at the annual Mississippi National Guard JAG Conference. Mr. Jones was admitted to practice law in Mississippi in 1989.

William E. (Trey) Manhein, III Trey Manhein currently serves as Chief Financial Officer and General Counsel for LEC, Inc., a company that provides integrated services in automation, interface programming, networking, and fabrication for a wide range of industries, nationally and internationally. Before joining LEC, Inc., he engaged in the private practice of law with extensive experience in business, commercial, bankruptcy, and banking law. He is a graduate of Louisiana State University (2000) and Mississippi College School of Law (2003). He regularly teaches Secured Transactions and Sales and Leasing at MC Law and previously taught Banking Law as an adjunct.

Seth Shannon is the Director of Legal Aid at Mission First, Inc., a nonprofit located in Jackson. Among other programs, Mission First, through its staff and volunteers, provides free civil legal assistance to those who cannot afford an attorney, primarily in family law, probate, landlord/tenant, and consumer matters. Seth previously worked for the Mississippi Attorney General's Office, the Mississippi Department of Child Protection Services, the Mississippi Center for Justice, and the Mississippi Volunteer Lawyers Project. He is a graduate of the University of Iowa College of Law and has been practicing law in Mississippi since 2010.
